Royal Mail stamps to go for gold in London 2012

- Royal Mail stamps to be issued to mark all Team GB gold medal wins
- Gold medal stamps a first for Royal Mail
- Only 3rd time a host nation has issued individual Olympic gold medal stamps

Royal Mail has announced that it will issue special gold medal stamps to celebrate Team GB Olympic gold medal wins.

Details of the actual designs themselves are set to be announced later, when Royal Mail will also announce its plans to commemorate the Paralympic Games.

At the Beijing 2008 Olympic Games Team GB won 19 gold medals. It will be the third time a host

Australia Post was the first postal service to issue gold medal stamps to mark home team Olympic victories in 2000, with Hellenic Post in Greece following suit in 2004. In 2008 China Post issued a single commemorative sheet of stamps to mark their national team's success in Beijing. More recently Canada Post issued a stamp to mark the first ever gold medal won on home territory at the Winter Olympics in Vancouver in 2010.
